CONFERENCE AIM

The aim of the conference is to exchange views, discuss and present the results of research on methods, tools and trends in managing organizations.

The subject of the conference covers the aspects of modern management of organizations in a very broad sense, with particular emphasis on the process of improving management methods and tools as well as contemporary challenges for entrepreneurs and managers on the way to the success of the organization.

KEY TOPICS

We want the conference to become a platform for the exchange of knowledge, research results and experience in such problem areas as:

- modern methods and techniques for managing an organization
- determinants of organization management
- organizational aspects of the functioning of the organization
- process management, project management, change management
- problems and strategies for managing the organization
- sustainable development in management
- innovation and entrepreneurship
- property management

The proposed thematic blocks of the conference do not exhaust all the issues that could be the subject of a scientific debate.

We are open to other suggestions related to the issues of organization management.

We expect critical reflections on theoretical problems and practical solutions in the areas of management resulting from empirical research.
